

The diagram illustrates the tail section of an aircraft. It features two main components: the Elevator at the top and the Horizontal Stabiliser below it. The Elevator is a long, narrow, slightly curved surface. The Horizontal Stabiliser is a larger, rectangular surface with a central vertical fin. A horizontal bar is attached to the front of the Horizontal Stabiliser. The entire tail section is enclosed in a rectangular frame.

Elevator

Horizontal Stabiliser